Passenger Traffic Overview

Total passenger traffic in June 2019 increased 5.8% YoY primarily reflecting growth of 19.0% in Argentina and 12.1% in Armenia, further supported by growth across most other countries of operations, partially offset by declines in Brazil and Italy.

In Argentina, total passenger traffic increased 19.0% YoY, mainly driven by growth of 27.4% in domestic passengers benefiting from continued good performance of new routes by existing and new airlines introduced during 2018 and 2019, together with a mix-shift to domestic from international travel by local passengers. International passenger traffic increased 4.1% reflecting easier comps given the decline in the year ago period given difficult macro conditions. During June, American Airlines opened a new international route from Córdoba Airport to Miami, United States, while low cost carrier JetSmart continued to add new domestic routes connecting El Palomar with Iguazú and Salta airports, contributing to more connectivity in the country.

In Italy, passenger traffic declined 1.9%, reflecting a drop of 5.6% in passenger traffic at Pisa Airport, mainly driven by the reduction of operations by Pobeda, which suspended the route to Saint Petersburg and decreased frequencies to Moscow. This was partially offset by growth of 6.1% at Florence Airport, reflecting additional flights to Madrid, Spain, by Iberia together with the good performance of SAS's flight to Copenhagen introduced last April. Moreover, a new international flight to Dusseldorf, Germany, by Eurowings also contributed to the increase.

In Brazil, passenger traffic declined 12.4%, primarily reflecting the cancellation of operations by a local airline, and, to a lesser extent, a reduction in less profitable routes and frequencies by a leading Latin American airline as it seeks to optimize domestic operations at Brasília Airport. Domestic passengers declined 11.7% while international passengers increased 19.3% according to the new methodology count introduced by ANAC June 2018. Importantly, in June 2019 Gol airlines started a direct flight to Cancún, Mexico, departing from Brasília airport. With this new international route, Brasília airport serves six international destinations. Moreover, Azul announced new domestic routes from Brasília airport to Rio de Janeiro and Recife, starting 4Q19, with three daily flight to each destination.

In Armenia, total passenger traffic increased 12.1%, benefiting from the addition of several new routes and frequencies during 2018 and 2019. In addition, during July 2019, Smartavia started three-weekly services from Zvartnots Airport to Moscow, and a seasonal flight to Saint Petersburg twice a week. Moreover, Georgian Airways started a daily flight to Batumi, Georgia, during the summer season.

Cargo Volume and Aircraft Movements

Cargo volume increased 7.2% in June 2019, mainly as a result a 32.7% increase in Brazil, and further supported by stable cargo volume in Argentina, including increased exports.

Aircraft movements decreased 4.9% in May 2019, mainly as a result of a 21.4% decline in Brazil.
